Simple "members-only" sites.

Sold at a corporate level with no restriction on number of employees or users of packaging and device materials.

In manufacturing processes and communication between supplier staff across the supply chain.

Safety and product stewardship managers at pharmaceutical and biotech companies.

This is an essential event for suppliers of pharmaceutical packaging, medical devices, and related materials. The opportunity to share information and prospective from like minded technical experts and discuss how best to ensure listening to the shared experience of technical experts from some of the key players in the pharmaceutical industry. With presentations from key industry players:

• Regulatory affairs professionals from chemical and biological industries.
• Marketing products based on Principle of Mutual Recognition.
• Marketing practices with specific regard to BPA.
• Marketing products based on the latest scientific research.

A special section of the programme, specifically devoted to BPA. Responding to the recent regulatory debates in the press, we have added topics to cover all specific issues related to BPA.

In addition, in 2010 we have a special section of the programme, exclusively devoted to nanomaterials. Their development, impact and future regulation.

In summary, Extractables & Leachables 2010 should not be missed. This is an event open to all who should attend.

Exhibitions and sponsorship opportunities give you the opportunity to display your products and services and can help you to meet prospective customers. We provide promotional opportunities to assist you in targeting your potential customers. In addition, we can organise exhibitions and sponsorship opportunities for your event.
We work with you to create a programme that will attract participating exhibitors and sponsors. Our team can help you to promote your exhibition and sponsorship opportunities to ensure that you reach the right visitors.

The city of Berlin, Germany is built around the River Spree in Bundesland, Berlin. The city has a rich history and is a vibrant cultural centre. Berlin is home to many world-renowned museums, such as the Berlin Museum for Classical Art and the Pergamon Museum. The city also has a cultural and creative scene, with numerous galleries, theatres and breathing places. Berlin is a cosmopolitan city with a diverse population, and it is a hub for business and innovation.

The conference fee includes entry to the conference sessions and the exhibition, full documentation, lunches, refreshments and evening diners. The fee also includes access to the conference book and conference proceedings. Participants will receive the conference book and conference proceedings as part of their registration fee.

If you need assistance with visa applications, please contact our visa team. Our team can help you with the process and provide information on the requirements for different countries. We can also provide advice on the visa application process and international travel.
